

Tewksbury Teenbits

Smoking problem

by Lisa Boivin

There is an estimated 44.5 million smokers in America and the number is growing. Four out of every 10 teens who smoke use at least one pack of cigarettes per day. People who smoke spend 15 per cent more time sick in bed than those who don't. These are just a few of the shocking statistics taken by the American Cancer Society and they are not even really up to date.

As the smoking problem at the high school continues, opinions and emotions seem to be ignored. Some are indifferent, some are radically changing, but most feel that there is no real solution.

One of the members of the faculty feels the answer lies in extensive education on the subject would discourage young people from engaging in the smoking habit in the first place. "When the hazards of smoking were first made certain, there was a tremendous decrease in adolescents smoking, but, at present, I feel there is a reversal, with many participating as a daily habit. Adults should set an example by overcoming their own smoking habits."

On the subject of a designated smoking area, the same faculty member said, "The areas should be outside because non-smokers should not have to pay for smoking areas." Of course, most non-smokers will agree and if the situation were reversed, the smokers would not wish to have to pay for a non-smoking area. It's only fair, but it doesn't solve anything. The questions, what will?

Laurie Jean Sanders

Laurie Jean Sanders, 17, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Sanders, has returned to Wilmington after a 12 year absence. She has returned to work with Mrs. Austin Rounds at the North Intermediate School.

Laurie lived in town for five years, while her father was the pastor of the Wilmington Congregational Church. The Rev. Sanders is currently the pastor of the Bristol Federated Church in Bristol, New Hampshire.

As a junior at the New Hampton School, a coeducational college preparatory school in New Hampton, New Hampshire, Laurie is working in the town as part of the school's Project Period. During a two week period at the close of the winter term, each student at the school is allowed the opportunity to pursue an area of study which would further his or her personal development.

The desire to be of help to young people led Laurie to a consideration of special education, counselling, or music therapy. She chose this project as a way of learning more about what she feels may be her future career.

Her other interests and activities at the school are varied. She has taught music at the local kindergarten, been a waitress for the Gordon Research Conference and hostess/head waitress for all special dinners and banquets during the school year. She is also active on the White Key, the student public relations and hospitality organization.

This year, she was asked to serve as statistician for New Hampton's championship varsity hockey team. She enjoyed travelling with the team that was hailed in the February issue of Hockey as New England's prep school powerhouse.

Children's movie at library

You don't need a "golden ticket" to visit the mysterious and magical candy factory of Willy Wonka where "nobody ever goes in, nobody ever comes out."

The 1972 feature length movie "Willy Wonka & the Chocolate Factory" based on the book Charlie and the Chocolate Factory, by Ronald Dahl will be shown at Wilmington Memorial Library on Wednesday afternoon March 23 at 2:30 and again on Saturday morning, March 26 at 10:00.

The musical, produced by Paramount, stars Gene Wilder as the eccentric Willy Wonka and is directed by Mel Stuart. Make a date to meet Charlie and his "scrumdiddlyumptious" friends at the library for this movie. Admission will be free.

Career Day

The Regional Career Day will be held at the University of Lowell on March 18. All sophomores from Tewksbury Memorial High School will attend.

The buses will leave the school at 10:50 a.m. and will pick up the students along the regular routes. Those students who walk to school will board the buses at the school or at the nearest bus stop.

While at the University, the students will attend the various Career Day conferences. Each student expressed his or her conference preference in the initial survey taken at the high school. The conference will end at 2:05 p.m. and the students will leave the University at 2:20. The buses will return to the high school and the students will attend their 11th period classes.

Measles clinics next week

Dr. Harold D. Homefield, Administrator of Pupil Personnel Services in Wilmington, has announced that the town will conduct measles immunization clinics. The clinics will be held at Wilmington High School on March 21 and at the two intermediate schools on March 22.

The program, which is being undertaken in cooperation with the state and local health departments, is aimed at teenagers and is designed to prevent measles outbreaks in the school system. Parent consent slips were distributed to all students in grades seven through 12.

The program is aimed at teenage children because they fall into a risk group. This is because many were immunized before 1966 and before they were 15 months of age. Also, they have an uncertain immunization status and an unconfirmed history of disease.

Measles is the most serious of the common childhood diseases. It can cause deafness, blindness, convulsions or brain disorders. However, children who are allergic to chicken or duck, chicken or duck eggs or feathers or neomycin should not receive the vaccine. Also, if a child has a medical problem, the family physician should be consulted.

General inquiries concerning the program may be directed to the Pupil Personnel Office. Medical questions should be addressed to the family physician or to the Health Department.

League of Women Voters seeks funding

The Wilmington League of Women Voters is currently seeking financial support from the local community. Letters, asking business and private citizens for their assistance, were mailed last week.

The League is a non-partisan organization which is committed to the democratic process. Since its founding over 15 years ago, the members of the Wilmington group have been involved in providing information to voters, encouraging residents to participate in government and taking action in the community. Legislative open houses, candidates nights, referendum nights and warrant nights are a part of their Voter Service Program. The League was also instrumental in establishing the Memorial Library, the Recreational Director and the masterplan in the town.

For almost a decade, it has co-sponsored the Student Government Day with the School Department. This year, more than 50 senior high school students will be provided with a practical experience

The Burlington Dam etc.

Last week there was a story of Cook's Hill, the old volcano in South Wilmington. Part of that story was devoted to the water needs of the area.

Now the Town Crier has been told that the Burlington Dam has changed things. That dam is familiar to many readers. It was the cause a few years ago, of "Weeping Hill," down at the Burlington - Wilmington line, where water came through the hill from the Burlington reservoir.

The construction of the dam seems to have cut off water flow to the Cook Hill area, according to residents. The dam is 4200 feet away - but the hill can be described as being upstream.

The six families who live on the hill have wells, drilled into the ground. Careful husbandry of the water is needed, in some instances at least, but there is (or has been) water. One of the wells, belonging to the Sullivan family, is 440 feet deep. That's down on Border Avenue. The well is now dry, and the Sullivan's say it is the dam.

That will come up Saturday, in the Wilmington Town Meeting, under articles 21 and 22.

The Finance Committee, as is proper, has recommended against many articles to come up in Saturday's meeting. That's what Finance Committees do.

Article 20, in this respect will be of special interest. It is for a security and detection system in the Wilmington Public Library, and the man who will offer the motion is Philip Buzzell, now well into his 80's, and probably Wilmington's most experienced public official. Mr. Buzzell started off as a Scoutmaster, in the days before World War I, and has held office of one kind or another ever since. There were 50 or more years on the Library Board; there has been School Board; there were many years as Town Counsel and as Moderator.

He has had many years of practice at being a servant to the public.

Chapter 808, so called, will be presented to the voters under Article 27. This is the state law of which the Wilmington Planning Board was afraid a year ago. Now, it seems, they are ready to recommend it to the voters. In any event it becomes law in a few years, vote or no vote.

The sale of town-owned land is of interest, Saturday. Four parcels will be considered, the most interesting of which is the parking lot in North Wilmington. It was to be used as a passenger parking lot, for a railroad that no longer runs passenger trains into North Wilmington.

Some interesting conversation is promised, and perhaps some other offers to buy the land. There seems to be more than one opinion, ready for expression.

If the Wilmington voters do not get entrapped in too much talk they can finish the Town Meeting Saturday.

Buczynski Analysis

The Wilmington Town Meeting of last Saturday, to judge by remarks made both in the meeting and afterward, Mike Buczynski of Marcia Road, Wilmington made more of an impression on many voters in five minutes than did several school officials in 40.

The school budget had been introduced by Chairman John Brooks at 4:34 p.m. The superintendent of schools spoke on the budget, without discussing salaries, until 5 p.m. and then the business manager took over. Mr. DeLuca spoke until 5:14 p.m., talking of business procedures, and assuring the voters that the town's money is not wasted.

Then Mike took over. He is a mild, almost diffident man. He told the town meeting that he had taken notes, during the hearings on the school budget. He had data, mostly from the February 16 meeting.

Mike said he was in favor of good education. The budget, he noted, was of considerable magnitude. He credited Dr. Eisenberg, high school principal, with a good arrangement.

Then Mike began to analyze the number of pupils, to the number of teachers. His analysis was not quite fair, in that he omitted some classifications, but it was delivered in a quite and yet intense manner.

The pupil/teacher ratio was what interested him. From Kindergarten through grade eight Mike found the ratio to be 16.75 pupils. He found the high school teachers had a ratio of 20 pupils to a class.

Thirty-two teachers, at $10 thousand, he pointed out, was $320,000. He went on to work on the credits needed for graduation, and discussed the aspects of teaching with the credits earned from teachers. His figures produced that 76 teachers were needed, for Wilmington High School, and then he showed that that was the number of teachers.

Carrying on his analysis, Mike found that there were 173 non-teaching staff personnel, or one full time non-teacher for every two teachers.

His work continued, to the number of personnel that could be saved, with an average of 20 students to a class, from kindergarten to high school. The salaries, as he figured them, would be $595,105 less, at a 20 per class figure - and that would mean a sum of $1534 "we could give to every graduate from Wilmington High, for his college expenses."

Just as quiet at the end of his talk,

Mike sat down. He was followed by John Boudreau "The last three gentlemen gave us more information about the school budget than we got in an hour of listening to the others."

"Dr. Pierce and Mr. DeLuca totally overlooked the subject of the six millions in salaries." "I work out that there has been a 9% increase in salaries, and I didn't want to sit here and listen to a lot of foolish talk about buying pencils and erasers."

John Brooks took the floor. He pointed out that the school committee negotiates openly on school salaries, and the questions "don't come in the form of accusations."

Seventeen years ago, he said, he took the stand that the taxpayers, and only the taxpayers have the right to ask questions. He continued his discussion, saying that the budgets were prepared in conformance with the law "and we are sworn to uphold the law" - "any school committee which cannot defend its own budget does not deserve to have one" - "the law doesn't give us a blank check."

Dr. Pierce told the meeting "You cannot average out the teachers. You have more than teachers. You have counselors, and others." "The enrollment is not 15, nor 16, nor 18 a class, but closer to 25. The ratio in kindergarten is 50 to a class - by the time it gets to grade six it is 30 to a class."

Bruce DeWine: "I feel I have been here before." He spoke of the work of a speech pathologist, with his son. Then he spoke of the statutes: "If the Legislature would put its house in order - Massachusetts does not pay its full share (of school costs) - 'get after the legislators - just not doing their job - instead of pitting members against the school committee."

Jeanne Pederson: "To average out the High School is extremely unfair." "You wouldn't want classes closed out to your children?"

The school budget was finally voted at 5:47 p.m.

Travel At Ease

Less than four centuries have gone by from the discovery of Brazilian jungles to the building of Brasilia, that futuristic city of the year 2000. Brazilian architects are among the most famous in the world, and they have established a city that is as unique as it is beautiful. The basic plan of the city was a cross designed by Costa. The official buildings begin on the Square of Three Powers. The cathedral that never fails to intrigue newcomers, is built further away. You reach it through a long, dark tunnel. The natives sing, "If I owned Brasilia, I would pave it with diamonds."

More CETA money coming

Additional Federal manpower funding will be available soon for the Greater Lowell area under Title VI B of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act Program (CETA). Henry Przydzial, a spokesman for the Lowell CETA Administration office, reported that the area will receive approximately $2 million in additional funding. The Lowell office administers the CETA Program for the City of Lowell and the area towns, including Tewksbury.

Przydzial stated that each municipality will receive their fair share of the funds.
The shares are determined by a formula system based upon population, the unemployment rate and other factors.
Congress is currently working on the Title VI B proposal and passage is expected in mid-April. Przydzial added that if the bill goes through as expected, the program could be implemented by May 1.

Unlike prior CETA funding, the Title VI B funds will be utilized for special projects.
Half of the projects will be on the municipal level while the remainder will be sponsored by non-profit agencies. The area municipalities have been informed of the new program and a committee has been formed to review special projects proposals.
Przydzial said that when hiring for these projects emphasis will be given to persons with low income levels.
The long term unemployed, persons receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children or Social Security Insurance and recently discharged Vietnam era veterans. He added that it was a Congressional goal to allocate 25 percent of the jobs to these veterans.

Tewksbury candidates for Planning Board

Donna M. McCormack is a candidate for the Planning Board of Tewksbury. She lives at 79 Eighth Street, in Tewksbury, with her husband Michael. She is a graduate of Ludlow High School in Fairfield, Conn. and of Graham Junior College in Boston, and has attended special courses at Bentley College and Boston College. She is employed as an Office Manager for Berman and Sons, Inc. a management firm located in Shoreham.

Prior to locating in Tewksbury she was very active in the town government of Brookline, where she formerly lived. She was a trustee for St. Paul Manor Condominium Trust and organized the Taxpayer's Association for the Proper Assessment of Condominiums. Donna is a member of the League of Women Voters.

She feels that Tewksbury needs more women active in its government, and takes pride that she is a woman and is able to make a solid contribution in making Tewksbury a better place to live, with her knowledge of law, real estate and zoning.
Donna does not claim to know all the answers, but says she will strive to find workable solutions to the problems that concern all its residents.

sinking another slap shot set up by Terry Feran and Paul

Tom Woods' quintet jumped to a 16-4 first period lead and the outcome was never doubtful. Dave Woods hit for 35 points for the Pistons, while Bill Liston (19) and Craig Vokey (16) led the slumping Lakers. The Bullets (7-4) moved into first place ahead of the idle Knicks (6-4) with a come-from-behind 51-49 victory over the Celtics (6-5). Chris Nolan took over the scoring chores for Steve Winchell's crew, tossing in 27 points. Tom Stewart's Celtics jumped out to an early 17-9 lead, increased their margin to 31-16 at half time only to fall apart in the second half. Bob Grant and Mike Martin tossed in 14 points each for the Celtics.

Wednesday, Mar. 10: The Super-Stars (10-3) clinched the Mens Division crown on the strength of a 93-77 triumph over Bottoms Up (3-12) to highlight a twin bill at the High School gym. The Stars led all the way posting eads of 18-9, 40-28 and 69-58 at the quarter marks. Tom Beaton tossed in a career high 36 points for the Stars, while Paul Ritchie tallied 23 for Bottoms Up. Artie Gilbert (22) and Doug McCain (20) paced Shawheen Plumbing (9-7) to an 83-75 victory over the Misfits (4-11) in the other contest. George Pratt took game high scoring honors hitting 34 points for the Misfits.

Thursday, Mar. 11: The Pandas (11-0) clinched first place in the Junior Girls sector when they knocked off the Bees (2-4), 28-18. Susan Hanna led a well-balanced Panda attack with 10 points. Kerin Taylor paced the Bees with 11 points. In the Senior Girls loop, the Opans (6-5) snapped the Jades (10-1) winning streak with a come-from-behind 51-46 triumph over Coach Rowe's crew. Barbara Reinhart's blue and white quintet overcame a 35-20 half time deficit to knock the Jades down a peg. Linda Rudnicki paced the Opals' attack with 23 points, scoring 17 in the second half comeback. Ann Gillis chipped in with 12, while the Jades were led by Susan Rowe (12) and Debbie Bent (10).

In the other encounter, the Diamonds (4-7) kept their playoff hopes alive with an exciting 51-44 triumph over the hustling Rubys. Diane Nottebart (20) and Laurie Hastings (12) paced Vin Schifo's club in their seasonal victory over the Rubys. Ann Domigan tossed 11 and Lisa DiGaravilla added 10 for Pattie Griffin's club.

Rebounds: The past season playoffs will get underway on Sunday, March 27 and conclude on Saturday, April 2. In some divisions, playoff positions are still up in the air and in all probability the final four spots will not be decided until the last regular season game.

The complete playoff format will be released by the Rec Department on Monday, March 21.

Tighe, Cushing respond

The following two responses come on the heels of the Al Fessenden hockey interview and the "Let's improve WHS roundball" column. Jay Tighe and Jack Cushing chose to offer the Town Crier some sports feedback concerning the two articles.

Jay Tighe on the Fessenden interview:

Tighe hopes that the next Wilmington High School hockey coach will be a "motivator." "It is the coaches' job to motivate the boys," says Tighe. "Fessenden's statement about some boys not giving a total team effort is a cop out on the coach's part."

When asked if he thought that mature young men should have some degree of self-motivation Tighe replied, "that's a lot of bunk - the kids are crying out for a coach who can motivate them."

It is known that several WHS hockey players were frustrated about the situation surrounding the MVHL team and went to their Bantam Coach Gordie Carlin for advice. Carlin told them to "hang in there - don't quit." The kids didn't quit, but the frustration, disorganization and lack of discipline stuck out like a sore thumb in the 13-0 loss to Billerica at season's end.

Tighe recalls that day, shakes his head and says "I was ashamed to admit I was from Wilmington."

It is worth noting that Mr. Tighe has led two delegations of parents before the School Committee in an effort to bring about a coaching change.

In 1971-72 Tighe and 17 concerned parents went before the committee and this was followed by a 1974-75 meeting that included 14 parents.

"The committee was polite says Tighe. "they took it under advisement and did nothing. Tighe has openly opposed Fessenden since after the coach's first year at the helm.

Tighe feels a coaching change was necessary because there was a lack of discipline, motivation and a general leveling off of talent once the boys reached the high school level.

There is absolutely nothing wrong with the Wilmington Youth Hockey Program according to Tighe. "There is no reason why we can't compete with Billerica and Austin Prep. It's not true that this isn't a tourney team. It is a tourney team."

Tighe isn't talking through the side of his mouth - "this year's team (WHS) had a two year Bantam record of 117 wins, 20 losses and 10 ties. They outscored the opposition 867-317. In eight games with the Billerica Bantams Wilmington won three.

Tighe asserts Wilmington has lost too much young talent to Austin Prep and that perhaps a change in atmosphere will keep some Wilmington kids playing hockey for their hometown.

"Everyone has to lose, emphasizes Tighe, - but not like that Billerica game - that was disgraceful!"

Tighe concludes that "there is no reason why we can't compete on the level of Billerica, Austin Prep and Burlington."

So if you can give a 16-19 year old kid a swift kick in the butt, a pat on the back, and a pointer here and there - there is a job for you in Wilmington.

Jack Cushing on Rec roundball:
"We don't feed other high school sports - we are not a feeder system" says Rec Director Cushing about the idea that the Rec basketball program should groom players for the high school level.

"We are willing to help out any way we can - we are open to suggestions reports Cushing.

A formal reply follows:
In reference to the article concerning roundball.

We are commissioned by the town to provide a balanced recreational program for all age groups. Our programs are not intended to become a feeder system for any interscholastic sports program here in the town of Wilmington. The recreation program has been geared for individual and group enjoyment.

The next regular pack meeting will take place on Friday, March 25.

The past two weeks' play saw the Pee Wee B-1's win three games, tie one, and lose none. In Wilmington they tied second place Stoneham 1-1 and defeated Somerville 2-1; while at Danvers they went over 200 goals "for" the season by downing Ipswich 9-0 and Beverly 12-2.

Against their toughest competitor over the years, Wilmington contained Stoneham after the latter scored in the first period holding them scoreless the rest of the way until Marc Johnson assisted by Ed Olson and John LaLiberte scored the tying goal late in the third period.

After losing to Somerville in double overtime 1-0 weeks prior in the District 10 Championships, the B-1's came back to defeat Somerville 2-1. Again in a losing situation until the third period John Robson from Dave Elliott scored the equalizer and Craig Richards unassisted provided the game winner in another closely guarded game.

In Danvers, goalie Chuck Webster posted another shutout as Wilmington coasted to a 9-0 victory over Ipswich. Scorers were Dave Elliott with a hat trick, Bob Curran and Jim Smith with two goals apiece and single tallies from Jeff Brown and John LaLiberte.

In defeating Beverly, Craig Richards pumped in four goals and winger Jeff Brown scored a hat trick, his second of the season. Other goals were by defensemen Ed Olson and Rick McHugh and forwards Dan Ward, John Robson and John LaLiberte. This game score put Wilmington offensive scoring in the Danvers League over 200 goals for the season.

Bantam A's
Wilmington went up against Somerville last Thursday to put them down in a 4-2 defeat.

The first period previewed the entire game with both teams playing excellent two-way hockey with neither making any errors. The play was so tight and close that neither team scored to end the period 0-0.

The second period saw things come alive with two very nice goals by Wilmington's Peter (Clutch) Gunn scoring on an excellent lead pass from Jimmy Burns and a goal by Peter Gunn once again on a pass from Eric Bando to end the period 2-2.

Pack 136 notes

The Cub Scouts and their families of American Legion Pack 136 enjoyed a most beefy dinner at their seventh annual Blue and Gold Banquet on Sunday, March 7 at the K of C Hall, Wilmington.

Honored guests at the head table included American Legion Commander John Waters; Scout Master, Troop 136 Tom MacFarley; Assistant District Commissioner and Pack Treasurer David Filler; Committee member and former Webelos leader Ed Barlow; former assistant Den Three leader and past fund raiser Mary Jones and husband; former Den Four leader and present fund raiser, Joan Nicoll; Committee Chairman for Pack 136 Dick Nicoll and Cub Master Jim O'Donnell.

Highlight of the banquet was the presentation of Cub Scouting's highest award, the Arrow of Light to Webelos Scout Steven Schmitt. This is the only Cub Scout award which can be worn on the Scout uniform. Steven displayed his knowledge of the award by explaining to the group the various parts of the Scout symbol and their meaning.

The engineering activity badge was awarded to Webelos Scout Roy McLanahan.

The Cub Scouts were not the only ones receiving awards however. Special recognition was also given to Den One leader Pat Fenton and Den Five leader Claire Delaney who were presented their Den Leader's training award by Assistant District Commissioner Dave Filler. These awards which are approved by

The third period started out very tight with Somerville trying to get ahead. Goalie Rick Ballou held fast, blocking a total of 38 shots. At 9:43 Paul Boudreau got the tie-breaker on a pass from Mark Boudreau and Hockey LaLiberte.

It was then time for an insurance goal and Peter Gunn with his patented wrist shot came to the rescue on a pass from Mark Boudreau to end the game and set the record straight. An excellent display of team effort on the parts of both teams made a very exciting and enjoyable game.

Bantam B's

The B's kept on rolling by picking up two wins and a tie.

March 7: Reading II gave the B's all they could handle as the game ended in a 3-3 tie. After a scoreless first period Doug Wiberg scored, assisted by Zambenardi and Foley. After Reading tied it, Keith Ford scored assisted, again by Foley.

Early in the third period, Rick Zambenardi scored assisted by Duggan and Don Foley. Reading scored again on a power play to tie it 3-3.

March 12: Winthrop once again gave the team fits on Saturday night. Joby Duggan opened the scoring assisted by Ford. Keith MacDonald made it 2-0 assisted by Smith and Fran Turner stole the puck, broke in alone and scored - 3-0. Winthrop got two scores in the third before Keith Ford stole the puck and Keith MacDonald scored a short handed goal with 47 seconds left in the game.

Matt DePasquale played a superb game breaking up four clean breakaways in the second period.

March 13: In a super game, the B's tied Somerville 1-1 to remain two points behind them with one game left to play against Somerville.

Once again Matt DePasquale played an excellent game stopping 13 shots. Late in period two Keith MacDonald scored from in close assisted by Billy Wallace and Keith Ford. Somerville tied it on a power play at 6:22 of the third.
